

How to warn people?

Created: Wednesday, 28 December 2016 11:42 | Published: Sunday, 12 February 2017 18:24 | Written by Chandar Madan | Print

Life is full of surprises and shocks. You might never know when a surprise can turn into a shock. There are many times when we warn people to avoid taking too many risks or if they are climbing up a ladder you might warn them to be safe. Sometimes we see formal notices, pictures, posters that act as warnings about dangers. For e.g. If someone is investing all his money in stock market, you might warn them to avoid taking too many risks or someone is climbing a ladder or a tree, you might warn them to be safe.

There are expressions that are used in the English language to warn people. In today's blog, we will explain some expressions that can be used to warn people. We will divide the warnings according to the scenarios.

5 ways of warning people

1. When you want to tell someone to be careful as they leave to go somewhere:

Take care – Take care on the roads. They are slippery.

Mind how you go – Mind how you go, there is a landslide in the town side road.

2. When you want to advise people not to take too many risks:

Be careful – It's pouring. Be careful, don't go out unless it's necessary.

Better safe than sorry – It is better to take some extra winter clothes. Better safe than sorry.

You can't be too careful - "I have locked all the doors and windows and padlocked the gate. You can't be too careful these days."

3. When there is a risk of immediate danger:

Look out – Look out! There is a bus coming.

Watch out – Watch out! There is a manhole.

4. If you have to carry heavy objects around, then people around you might ensure that you do it carefully:

Steady - Steady! Are you sure you don't want any help in carrying this table?

Easy does it - Ok, you are almost there, easy does it. That's great. Thank you so much for helping me move the cupboard.

5. This is the common formal expression that is used on the roads and public buildings:

Beware - No entry. Beware of the guard dogs.

Beware of the dangers of drink driving”

Danger – Danger ahead! High voltage.

Hope the above on warning expressions help you communicate effectively. Try to use them in your daily life and understand the difference. It will help to enhance your vocabulary as well as spoken English Skills due to which you will be able to speak effectively. You can browse through our other related blogs based on different categories of communication skills; it will also enhance your knowledge.

About Eagetutor:

eAgeTutor.com is the premier online tutoring provider. eAge's world-class faculty and ace communication experts from around the globe help you to improve English in an all-round manner. Assignments and tasks based on a well-researched content developed by subject matter and industry experts can certainly fetch the most desired results for improving spoken English skills. Overcoming limitations is just a click of mouse away in this age of effective and advanced communication technology. For further information on online English speaking course or to experience the wonders of virtual classroom fix a demonstration session with our tutor. Please visit www.eagetutor.com.

- By Chander Madan

Related topics:

1. Vocabulary to be used while discussing beauty problems
2. Vocabulary to be used when describing your native place
3. Vocabulary to be Used When Describing a Special Occasion
4. How to complain politely?
5. How to avoid cross-cultural miscommunication?

Category: Spoken English / Communication Tips

Joomla SEF URLs by Artio