Buy from flipkart.com

How to describe a painting?

Created: Thursday, 27 February 2014 09:47 | Published: Sunday, 02 March 2014 13:56 | Written by Shailja Varma | Print

You have been recently appointed as a guide at an international art museum. Your job profile involves guiding the visitors to the different parts of the museum and explaining the paintings and other art works. How will you utilize your English speaking skills to accurately describe the paintings in detail? Using English as a form of communication will showcase yourconversation skills and make a good impression on the visitors.

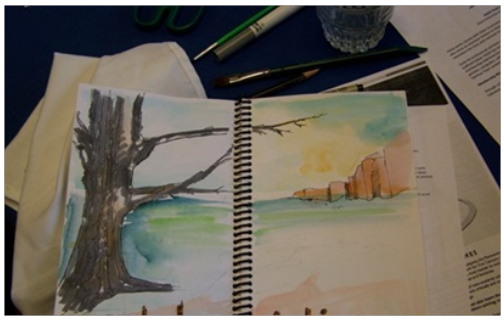

Things To Remember When Describing A Painting:

1. Have all information

It is important to have all the information about a painting. There is nothing more embarrassing than to stammer around for answers. When you have all the information regarding a painting, you will be in a good position to solve any doubts the viewers may have. It will involve a bit of a research which will improve your English comprehension skills. Even if you don't have all the information, redirect the visitors to the appropriate sources.

2. Engaging conversation

Never keep your description one sided. Ask interesting questions to them and get them engaged in the conversation. You can only do this when your English conversational skills are up to the mark. Usegrammatically correct sentences while communicating.

Sample Conversation While Describing A Painting Picture:

Situation:You are taking the visitors through the museum when they come across a Vincent Van Gogh painting

You: Ladies and gentlemen, here is the famous Van Gogh painting.

Visitor 1: Wow! It's so beautiful! What is it called?

visitors in the coffee shop. It clearly depicts the contemporary environment. The dress code at that time was black and Paris was just being electrified.

Visitors 3: Why is there no sign of Van Gogh?

You: This is the one painting where he did not sign his signature. Instead, as you can see on the bottom right corner, he has just written the words 'Café Terrace'.

Visitor 4: How do we know what you are saying is true?

You: You can check our pamphlet at the end of the tour listing the literary sources backing up our description.

Visitor 1: This really is a great painting. What will be its price?

You: At the current market rate, it will fetch around $25 million.

Visitor 2: Whoa! That is a fortune. The security here must be tight.

You: Yes, it is. The painting glass frame is virtually impregnable. Now, if you don't have any further questions, let's move on to the next painting.

The above sample shows how to do justice to a painting. Impress your listeners with your artistic knowledge and your English communication skills. You will get good additional knowledge about the artworks if you have a passion to build a great career.Improve your spoken English skills for great and influential communication.

About Eagetutor:

eAgeTutor.com is the premier online tutoring provider. eAge's world class faculty and ace communication experts from around the globe help you to improve in an all round manner. Assignments and tasks based on a well researched content developed by subject matter and industry experts can certainly fetch the most desired results for improving spoken English skills. Overcoming limitations is just a click of mouse away in this age of effective and advance communication technology. For further information on online English speaking course or to experience the wonders of virtual classroom fix a demonstration session with ouronline English tutor. Please visit www.eagetutor.com.

Contact us today to know more about our spoken English program and experience the exciting world of e-learning.

- By Shailja Varma

Related Topics:

1.How to describe your favourite movie?
2.Talking about life events - Summer vacations
3.How to describe school you attended in the past?
4.How to explain charges to a guest?
5.How to explain the project plan to a group of senior management members?

Category:Spoken English /Situational Conversation

Joomla SEF URLs by Artio